Some question marks here. What...exactly does this expansion add? A scattering of Orc bosses and events across the map that don't actually grant you anything exclusive? And this costs $20, the same price as a full Story expansion? This is not what players want to spend money on. This feels more like a $5 optional DLC at worst. Just a bit of flavour that adds nothing to the game.. Should have been included in the base game.. I bought the season pass because I got the game on sale for $15. This expansion is hardly noticeable, it adds variation to an already diverse roster and small time quickly finished quests in an already heavily marked and messy map of quests. Worth $5, maybe $10 if you love the game. $15 should buy both tribes wait for a sale. If you have already conquered the game and have your favorite gear, this is not worth $15. I purchased it about halfway through the game. It basically adds a bunch of vendetta like Captain fights and legendary gear from whichever tribe you purchase. When your leveling up and procurement of higher level gear seems to be lagging that is where this gets its value it is a booster in its own way.

Also I would add if your going to purchase it, I would just buy one tribe. Buying both is redundant.
